

Looking at the News with Col. Hugh Clark

J. P. MORGAN testified that in the past few years the assets of his firm have declined from seven hundred to four hundred millions. When we feel disposed to brood over our losses let's try to remember that not one of us lost as much as that.

Let us also when paying income tax try to remember with grateful hearts that we are really in a more fortunate position than the poor devils of directors of the Morgan firm who just on the eve of filing their returns made such stupendous losses that they were not taxable for income at all.

They order things better in England where Mr. Morgan had to pay income taxes of over a hundred thousand dollars in three years when he was paying none in the United States. If the law contains loopholes it is the fault of the men who made them, not the fault of the men who use them.

Nor was there anything illegal in the firm's having a preferred class of clients to whom it sold shares at $20 when the market price was $37.

Indeed it would be surprising if the firm was not quite within the law in all its operations. It includes first-class lawyers and has first-class lawyers in its service. The fact that the law is being changed in the light of the disclosure shows that the law and not the firm is responsible for the loss of revenue to the national treasury.

The stable is being locked after the owners have removed a string of their own horses, some of which the State could have had if it had only requisitioned in time.

There was no secret about it. Everyone who reads the financial papers has read of large sales made on the eve of filing returns, and the reasons therefor, yet no effort was made until now to remove the cause. It must therefore be assumed that the loop-hole was left there purposely.

Canada stands to gain enormously by the removal of the gold clause in debt contracts. The National Railways, provincial and municipal governments and corporations that borrowed heavily in the United States can now pay in the legal tender of their own country. It is a good thing unless it encourages them to go borrowing again in the same market.

People who want war are mighty hard to please. What's the matter with world conditions just as they are?

The incentive being so great we might overlook the politicians who become demagogues and honor those who don't.

Six months hence, the most unpopular public man in the United States will be President Roosevelt, for no particular reason except that he is so popular now.

Since the saloon has become a feature of many American cities we note that it takes processions a much longer time to pass a given point.

Sweet are the uses of adversity and adversity is often the bitter result of the misuse or abuse of prosperity.

A paper calls down a lawyer for asking a witness irrelevant questions. Some lawyers ask impertinent questions while trying to think up a pertinent one.

Having a title does not imply aristocracy, and railing against titles does not imply democracy.

There are men in England who used to rail against titles who are now members of the House of Lords which they used to denounce as worthy of abolition. Lord Passfield, for instance, was once Sidney Webb, Socialist, and Lord Snowden, was once Philip Snowden, a fiery Radical.

Many persons interviewed said there would be no objection to titles if the people so honored were worthy.

Dominion Day Celebration Auspices Vulcan Elks Lodge

Elks Preparing for Large Crowds, Everything Set for a Big Day

The best celebration for Dominion Day ever held in Vulcan is the ambition of the Vulcan Elks under whose auspices the undertaking is sponsored. Once an established annual event in Vulcan, the Dominion Day celebration declined and has not been held for the past several years. July the first this year will be a revival and re-establishment of an event that formerly Vulcan was famous for.

With a programme of high calibre the Elks only need excellent weather and patronage to assure success. Featured on the programme is the baseball tournament with competition between the four teams of the Wheat-belt league. Blackie plays Vulcan in the first game at 1:30 p.m. and Staveland and High River supply the teams for the second game at 5:30. Snappy baseball for the most exacting fan is assured.

Another feature that will prove exciting and a sport not seen here in years is that of horse racing. The race track has been put into first class condition for the occasion and events will include free-for-all, farmers saddle horse race, relay race, Roman race, pony race, children's Shetland pony race and a novelty race. Racing will start at 3:30 p.m. with $125.00 in prizes at stake.

Something new in sport for Vulcan will be the softball tournament. Teams already entered are Ensign, Brant, Kirkcaldy and Vulcan. Other teams desiring to enter are asked to see Jim Marshall as soon as possible.

A full programme of children's sports are being planned with competitions for all ages in many different events.

Fancy roping and riding, a horse shoe pitching contest with tennis and golf in the morning for those who wish to play will round out the bill of sport.

Music for the day will be supplied by the Vulcan Citizen's Band under the baton of R. H. Weale, with an extensive repertoire of the best in marches and popular selections.

The Elks have been fortunate in securing the Len Davis orchestra for a two-day engagement, June 30 and July 1, to supply the dance music for the fete.

Come to Vulcan July 1st.

A recent business change in Vulcan has been the taking over of the Vulcan Beauty Shoppe by Miss Nettie Mae Jackson formerly with the Eaton's Beauty Parlors, Calgary. Miss Beattie Rannels has been the operator until the change. See the advertisement.

Bishop Calgary Diocese Episcopal Visitation

His Excellency, the Rt. Rev. P. J. Monahan, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Calgary, was a visitor in Vulcan and district over the weekend and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Stack. He came to make his official episcopal visitation of the Parish of St. Andrew and to administer the Sacrament of Confirmation to a class of eighteen.

At 11 o'clock on Sunday morning he was solemnly escorted from the Rectory by the men of the Parish to the doors of the church, where he was met by the pastor, the Rev. Father Cunningham. Here the ceremonies called for on the occasion of an episcopal visitation were performed and the procession then advanced to the High Altar where the Bishop celebrated Low Mass. After Mass, took place the examination of those to be confirmed, in points of Christian Doctrine. During the examination the Bishop also addressed the large congregation which had taxed the seating capacity of the church. This completed, the Bishop, vested in cope and mitre and holding his pastoral staff, laid hands on each candidate who came up in turn to receive the Sacrament of Confirmation. As is his custom wherever he goes to administer Confirmation, His Excellency spoke to the children very earnestly on the evils that come from the abuse of liquor and he asked them to take a solemn pledge to abstain from the use of intoxicating drink until they had reached the age of twenty-one years, and expressed the belief that if they would keep this pledge until they reached that age they would not thereafter fall prey to the evil of intemperance. He felt, he said, that if he could succeed in keeping only one child from such a curse as drink, he would not consider his efforts in vain.

After the ceremony he was again solemnly escorted back to the Rectory. In the afternoon he proceeded to the Catholic Church at Champion and confirmed a small class there.

In the evening at 8 o'clock he gave Pontifical Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament assisted by Rev. Father Bowlen of High River, Rev. Father Fitzpatrick of Black Diamond and the Parish Priest, Rev. Father Cunningham. He also spoke to the congregation on devotion to the Blessed Sacrament which is continually reserved in their church. After Benediction the people were given an opportunity of meeting the Bishop in the church hall and a large number spent a very pleasant hour with him.

His Excellency left Vulcan on Monday morning for Lethbridge from whence he will proceed to Pincher Creek and the Crow's Nest Pass.

L. A. Starck, editor of the Carman-gay Sun, was a recent visitor in town and a caller at the Advocate office. He enjoyed the beauty of the town trees and boulevards, and in commenting says the following in the last issue of his paper: "It strikes one very forcibly when one enters a town with trees planted along the streets, how refreshing it is to go round the residential part especially as we had occasion to do the other day in Vulcan. There are other towns as well that have gone to work to improve their streets; how much more so must it impress the total stranger passing by. The memory lingers, it advertises itself and pays big dividends, for it attracts people to do business there, a person looking for a location is drawn there."

Believing the change of publication date will benefit both readers and advertisers the Advocate management will change the day of publication to Wednesdays starting with the issue of June 28th.

Readers will then receive the paper in ample time to digest the advertisements for week end shopping. They will be able to select the articles wanted and Saturday specials will become popular—a direct benefit to the advertisers.

Death of Pete Beardsley

Pioneer Resident Passes Away Suddenly While at Work Wednesday Morning

One of the district's earliest settlers and Vulcan's first residents passed away suddenly on Wednesday morning, when Pete Beardsley died in his forty-third year, during his activities with the dray business he had operated for many years in town.

Deceased was loading lumber at the Beaver Lumber yards around the hour of ten o'clock when he suddenly collapsed and expired without word to the person who was assisting him. Cause of death was heart failure.

He was a man of genial and happy disposition and will be greatly missed by everyone. Sincere sympathy is extended to his wife, Mrs. Beardsley, in her sad bereavement.

He was born in Iowa and came to Canada in 1907, settling in the Nanton district. Five years later he moved to the Vulcan district and has resided there ever since. Besides his wife, other surviving relatives are in the States. They are two brothers, John and Ed, and three sisters, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. J. McNeill and Mrs. I. McNeill.

Funeral services will be held from Vulcan United Church on Friday, June 16th at 1 p.m., after which the remains will be conveyed to Calgary by motor and thence shipped to Boston, Illinois. Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Snodgrass Funeral Home.

Lake McGregor Picnic

Posters on display for the past two weeks herald the yearly picnic event sponsored by the Lake McGregor U.F.A. Picnic Association at the Marquis Municipal Park on Wednesday, July 5th. Every year this picnic attracts large crowds from this and other districts and this year should prove no exception.

A large programme has been arranged including horse racing, athletics for all the family, a baseball tournament, a softball tournament, basketball and football games. In the evening, a dance is being held in the Oddfellows' hall, Milo, as a grand finale for a real day of sport. Refreshment booths on the grounds will serve pop, ice cream, etc., all during the day.

Members of the Picnic Association executive include C. L. Oldfield, president; Alex. McIntyre, secretary, and J. K. McLean, treasurer. All members of the various committees are listed on the poster and any information required may be obtained from them.

Ben Spence, famous prohibitionist of Toronto, spoke to an audience in the United Church on Thursday evening of last week in the interest of the campaign to close Alberta beer parlors. "A Bill or Ballot" is the slogan of the speaker in the campaign and refers to "the petition to the legislature to pass a law closing beer parlors and placing sale of beer in the hands of the government, the same as spirituous liquors are now handled; or, as an alternative to submit the question to a referendum of the electors."

Vulcan Baseball Club Win One and Lose Three Games

Miss Gladys Hanson and Mr. Leonard Hanson, sister and brother of the groom, acted as bridesmaid and best man.

After the ceremony many of their friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Alma Syngue to wish them luck and much happiness.

The council passed a resolution asking the government of the province for immediate action towards the discontinuing of net fishing in Lake McGregor.

Moved by Bennett that one gallon of paint be given the Vulcan Elks for the painting of the buildings at the Little Bow swimming hole. Motion carried.

Other items of business included the reading and adopting of the minutes of the last meeting and the passing for payment a number of accounts. All councillors were present.

The regular monthly meeting of the school board of Vulcan School District No. 1902 was held at the municipal office on Monday evening. All trustees were present.

A special meeting of the board will be held on Monday evening, June 19, to select a teacher for the vacancy in the High School staff.

Advertising is to a business what a good meal is to a growing boy—it builds him up and makes him grow.

This Sunday, June 18th is the day of the annual Community Memorial Services directed by the Samaritan Lodge No. 91, I.O.O.F. and the Clover Leaf Rebekah Lodge. The program appears in another column and printed folders with words of the hymns to be sung, along with the programme will be distributed to the public in ample time for participation.

U. F. A. Convention Here Next Saturday

Two sessions are being held, afternoon and evening, at 1:30 and 8:00 o'clock, the former will be addressed by Hon. O. L. McPherson, Minister of Public Works, and the latter by Norman F. Priestly, vice-president of the U.F.A.

Ball Club Plays Four Games; Win Sunday Exhibition

The Vulcan baseball club team played four games during the past week, three league games and an exhibition game. The league games were all lost and the only home game, the exhibition contest, was won.

On Wednesday of last week the locals journeyed to Staveland to take part in the tournament sponsored by the club of that town, the four league teams all playing. In the first game Staveland defeated High River 3-0. The second game played at 3 o'clock between Vulcan and Blackie resulted in a win for the latter 3-0, the score being the same as in the first game. Both games were league contests. The locals played excellent ball under the hurling of Anderson, but errors proved costly in the first and sixth innings during which time the Blackie team scored.

Batteries: Vulcan—Anderson and Recor; Blackie—Neiss and Woolridge. Referee—Alex. Allan, Staveland.

The game although not of first class ball, proved interesting to the spectators.

CHARLES CLARK, Proprietor

Thursday, June 15, 1933

SECTION 98

Don Buchanan, writing in the Lethbridge Herald, tells of an interesting discussion of the much talked Section 98 of the Canadian Criminal Code. The discussion took place at a meeting of the Political Science Association of Canada, held in Ottawa.

"F. R. Scott, of McGill University, in a paper on the subject, outlined one by one the pitfalls into which radicals may fall in Canada, without hope of emerging by recourse to the ordinary practices of justice. As few people realize, section 98 has clauses which force the accused to prove his innocence. If you chance to stop beside a street corner meeting, which turns out to be a Communist, then, if you are arrested, you must prove you do not belong to the party of the Third International. Prove it if you can. But what member of an illegal organization will dare to come forward to give witness? Your case is almost hopeless from the start. And such is but once instance of the working of the law of sedition in a country which declares it practices those rules of British law, which assume a person is always innocent until proved guilty."

"One of the allegations made during the meeting were that the rules of evidence in conspiracy trials were different from those in ordinary trials, were, indeed, almost directly unchanged from those of the notorious Star Chamber procedure of Tudor times. As for deportations, some 23 per cent. of the population of this country, that is everybody who has not the rights of Canadian citizenship by birth, is liable to deportation for uttering opinions against the government."

"Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor council added that prosecution for sedition was primarily a question of circumstances. Some people were arrested for saying certain things in certain places, but the same speeches in other situations were allowed."

"For instance," he concluded, "it is all right for us to talk as we are in the Chateau Laurier, but let us go out in the market square and repeat the proceedings of this meeting and the Mounted Police will run us all in for sedition."

LOWER BOND RATES

Mr. G. G. Coote, speaking in the House of Commons on Dominion of Canada bonds, said in part:

"I also urge that our money policy be such as to maintain as nearly as possible stable purchasing power for money which is paid in interest to the bondholder. I think that would be one of the first steps to lower interest rates in Canada. One step has already been taken by lowering interest rates on savings bank deposits. The chief factor governing interest rates in Canada, particularly on long term obligations, is the rate paid on Dominion of Canada bonds. I would just like to remind the minister that our public debt, that is provincial, municipal and Dominion, now amounts to over six and a half billion dollars, which at an average rate of five per cent.—I think we are paying more than that—means an annual interest charge of $325,000,000."

"Lastly, I want to suggest to the minister that the new loan should be floated at a very much lower rate of interest. I think he should fix three per cent as the rate to be paid on these bonds. I believe that rate is justified by the price level obtaining in Canada now. Whatever the government may decide as to the rate, the principle enunciated by the prime minister three or four years ago should be followed now, and banks and insurance companies, particularly insurance companies, should be compelled to invest a percentage of their reserves in such bond issues."

SIR BASIL ZAHAROFF

Sir Basil Zaharoff, the munitions master, is reputed as being one of the sinister figures moving across the pages of history. Now he's near the end of his mortal existence. The Edmonton Journal sketches his life in these words:

He took to the munitions business early in life and history shows him to have been peddling arms to Japan before 1904. A sales of $25,000,000 to Spain put him on his feet. Then he gained control of Vickers; he bought armament plants in almost every large country in the world, including Canada; he was part owner of the famous German Krupp. He took over the sale of Maxim's machine guns, and while Maxim sold them to the United States, Zaharoff sold them to Spain during the Spanish-American war. Before 1914 his plants were manufacturing war implements as quickly as they could be made. To every country he sold. Then came the great war, the crowning achievement of his life. Millions upon millions of dollars poured into his coffers. To one country he sold his guns; to the other he loaned money—all for the purpose of killing. He apparently sided with the allies, became a bosom friend of Lloyd George, and was knighted by the King. After the war business in armaments slumped. But Sir Basil had other irons in the fire. He bought Monte Carlo and made it pay huge dividends. He purchased great tracts of land where oil could be obtained. He threatened the supremacy of Rockefeller and the Standard Oil Company of the United States and of Sir Henry Deterding, the oil king of Europe; he became a second J.P. Morgan. Today he sits in his magnificent Chateau de Balin-court, half blind, bent and gaunt, haggard and worn. But his keen brain still functions with all the precision of youth. He has given away millions upon millions of francs to charity and other organizations. It is said that he is determined to make amends for all those who suffered in the war and for those who have suicided in his gambling rooms at Monte Carlo.

BLACKMAILING

The practice of sending threatening letters is not so rare as one might suppose. At times people in this district have been subjected to various types of blackmail which have caused them annoyance, but with which they have been patient.

A recent case in Calgary in which the writer of threatening letters has been sentenced to a year in jail, gives an indication of the punishment to which such an offender is liable. The sentence may be as severe as ten years in jail. So those who rashly take pen in hand to make covert or open threats would do well to take warning.

The Calgary case was a threat against the C.P.R. if it failed to place $5000 in a tin can by a certain telephone pole on a certain date. Leniency was exercised in this instance, in view of the prisoner's record and certain other circumstances. But such leniency is not the rule.

It is taken for granted by the general public that there are few offences of this nature in this country, or in this district. On the contrary, local people have been subjected to threats which have been serious in their implications. The writers have hidden behind anonymity, but this is feeble protection. It is not difficult as a rule to trace the sender of an anonymous letter.

Any man with a just cause of complaint is quite ready to sign his name, and state his case frankly. Those who seek to remain concealed, while they seek to extort, are prompted by no good purpose. The sooner they are exposed and punished, the better, not only for their current victims but for all society.

HIGH RIVER WINS SHUT OUT 8 TO 0

Vulcan Team Handicapped by Absence of Several Players, is Badly Defeated

Although Friday evening with its bitterly cold wind, was anything but a propitious baseball night, there was a good crowd out to see the ball game between High River and Vulcan on the local diamond. The High River team led by the score of 8-0 at the end of the seventh inning, when the game was called. Vulcan team was handicapped by the absence of three of their regular players, and failed to put up the game of which they are capable. MacLaren pitched for High River, and put up a good performance with nine strike-outs to his credit. Fulton, pitching for Vulcan, was hit more readily, and did not receive the same steady support as MacLaren in the field.

Throughout the game there were a good many bases on balls. High River got eight hits, and Vulcan three. McCullough and Pollard each got two base hits that brought in runs.

Clarke led off the scoring with a run in the first inning and Stauffer came home in the second to make it two. In the third inning, McCullough's two-base hit, brought in Blundun, and a succession of good plays also brought home McCullough, McLaren and Isaacson in this inning. The fourth inning was scoreless and the fifth gave Isaacson a run, with Stauffer also coming home in Pollard's two-bagger. This ended the scoring. Vulcan put up a good contest, but their errors were costly and they lacked the strength of the regular line-up.

Looking at the News

Ah, there's the rub. Just name anyone you think worthy of a title and then, Stop, Look, Listen.

All are agreed against hereditary titles, but a debt-driven country might stand for them if they were subject to heavy succession duties. thing on a cash basis, thus recognizing that the rank is but the guinea's stamp? If a man contributes a million to the federal treasury make him a C.M.G. If he gives two make him a K.B.E. If he gives three make him a K.C.B. If he gives four, make him a K.C.M.G. If he gives five give him the Garter.

In England titles were granted by Tory, Liberal and Labor governments as rewards for political contributions. All were for the party and none was for the state. Our proposal would make all for the state and none of the party.

Roosevelt's appeal to the nations was welcomed by some English newspapers as evidence that his country has decided it cannot pursue a policy of isolation. That policy, however, was abandoned in 1917 when it entered the war, in 1918 when it subscribed to the peace of Versailles and afterwards when it took part in world conferences and started loaning money abroad.

In the very nature of things a creditor cannot pursue a policy of isolation toward a debtor unless he bids good-bye to the monies he has advanced.

The horse is getting popular again, says a newspaper. There are still bad stretches of road which in the spring and fall make the horse popular with the motorist.

Urging members to subscribe for her favorite paper, Miss McPhail, M. P., sent out letters from Ottawa under frank which allows her as a member of parliament the free use of mails. It would be surprising if some one did not hunt and find a speech in which she denounced the abuse of the franking privilege. She, of course is not the only member who has abused the privilege.

KIRKCALDY W. I.

After the usual manner of opening there were ten minute talks of current events, following this Mrs. Scott gave a talk on bread, methods, etc., which was real interesting. This was followed by the reading of the minutes of the last meeting which were approved as read. Mrs. Hagerman gave a report of the financial part of the A.W.I. after which our delegate to the conference, Mrs. Clements, gave her report, which was very interesting. A hearty vote of thanks was given her at the close of the report.

The next meeting will be held on July 13th at the school house, when the annual Grandmothers' Day will be observed.

The Oklahoma basketball team defeated the unbeaten Edmonton Grads in three close games last week. There was a near riot after the game and the Oklahoma coach was highly indignant.

NEW BOUNDARIES MACLEOD RIDING

According to the Redistribution Bill passed by parliament last Saturday, the boundaries of Macleod federal riding at the next election will be as follows:

"Macleod consisting of all townships from (1) to nineteen inclusive comprised between the fifth meridian and the west boundary of the province of Alberta; townships three (3) to eleven (11) inclusive in ranges twenty-five (25) to thirty (30) inclusive west of the fourth meridian, lying west and north of Belly river; townships twelve (12) to nineteen (19) inclusive in ranges twenty-six (26) to thirty (30) inclusive west of the fourth meridian and those portions of the Blackfoot Indian Reserve and of townships twelve (12) to twenty-two (22) inclusive in ranges seven (7) to twenty-five (25) inclusive west of the fourth meridian lying south and west of the left bank of Bow River."

NATIONAL PARKS

Attendance for 1932 at National Parks was good. Banff National Park had 73,831 autos registered during the season, with about 137,000 passengers bound westward through the park. Jasper Park had just over 11,000 visitors, over 600 of whom came in by motor over the partly gravelled highway from Edmonton. Waterton Lakes had 11,697 autos, carrying 43,391 people, showing that the popularity of the beautiful little park in the south-western part of the province adjoining Glacier Park, is well sustained. Wainwright buffalo park, which had a buffalo population of about 6,300 head at the beginning of 1932 had 13,461 visitors, an increase from the previous year, while Elk Island Park, a popular spot just east of Edmonton, had 29,986 visitors during the period reported on.

SEARLE CO GIVES FARMERS INDEX

Many farmers have been studying with interest a pamphlet issued recently by the Searle Grain Co. in which amongst other features are statements of prices in commodities dating from 1914 to 1933.

These need no amplification. They disclose the heavy slump in farm products in comparison with other necessities of living. They show that there is no principle of operating effectively, to control the relative prices of what a farmer sells and what he buys.

What Farmer

In all instances the index number is placed at 100 for the year 1914, except for wheat which, in 1914, is placed at 102. In comparison with 1914, wheat in 1932 stood at 22 (Dec. 15), and in 1933 (May 23) at 50. Butcher steers in 1914, 100, and in 1933 54. Bacon hogs in 1914, 100, and in 1933 50.

Wheat He Must Pay For

Groceries in 1914 were 100 and in 1933, were 102; clothing (37 items) in 1933 stood at 118 index; household equipment (29 items) stood at 155; farm machinery (11 items) 153; municipal taxes (2 items) 190.

ALBERTA WHEAT POOL PRAISED

The Financial Post is of the opinion that the Alberta Wheat Pool's position is much stronger than that of the Saskatchewan and Manitoba pools. In an analysis of the Alberta Pool's financial position, the Post points out that the balance sheet indicates a members' equity of close to $4,000,000 and that there is a reasonable assumption that the provincial government appears safe from ultimate loss.

Congratulatory remarks are made regarding the method employed by the Pool in presenting its statement, the summary being: "The very complete accounts which the Pool has made public, and the manner of their presentation, makes examination of the situation easy." It is also mentioned that Pool members in Alberta are in a much better position than Pool members in either Saskatchewan or Manitoba.

Coming from such a source as the Financial Post, which has never been very friendly to the wheat pools, the Alberta Pool members should feel encouraged over the situation surrounding their organization. It has generally been the feeling that the Alberta Pool was somewhat more carefully operated than its sister concerns in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and the Post's survey bears this out.

NEW REGULATIONS AUTO INSURANCE

Alberta's new law dealing with automobile insurance came into effect on Thursday, June 1.

The law applies to all automobiles, motor trucks, trailers, motorcycles, and tractors. It is not compulsory insurance, but is intended to encourage safe and careful driving and to penalize reckless and careless drivers.

Under this law, the driver's license of a person (and every owner's license held by him) will be suspended if he fails to satisfy within 15 days a final judgment rendered against him by any court in the dominion for damages on account of bodily injury to or the death of another person, or on account of damage to property of another person in excess of $100; or if he is convicted of a number of offences, such as driving to the common danger and causing injury to any person or property, exceeding the speed limit and causing injury to any person or property, driving without a license, or driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated.
